GOALS

From a young age I have been a creative minded person. My art/design history started in Graphic Illustration classes in high school, and has built from there. My aim throughout my career is to learn as much as I can whilst building a strong foundation of skills, allowing me to express myself creatively to my best ability, no matter where it takes me.

ABOUT ME

My work ethic is to get my hands dirty and learn as much as I can about the job to best fulfil the criteria. I work well in group environments, and feel they are a good way to keep developing myself through critique to best achieve great design work. I myself am an easily approachable person who is friendly and enjoys the creative process that comes with design work.
